

SNIPPETS

Doxie Christmas wall hanging - 27" x 17" - and the label that will be sewn on the back.

Hanky Panky - (cat approved).

These are the first PHD pictures that have been submitted.

Made by Dawn Dilley.
We need more for next month's newsletter. I know there are a lot out there.

PHD Lists

This notice was in last month's newsletter but wanted to remind you that it has been decided that if you finished a PHD and want it checked off the list, you can send a picture to Bobbi or Sandy and they will mark you done. I know many of us have finished quilts and if you want to gift them, this is a way to get them included in your count. We will try to include some pictures in each newsletter.

Send your picture to bobbicallison13@gmail.com or sjacobsoo5@gmail.com

President's Message

I have still not heard when they plan on opening the activities center so looks like another month with no meeting.

With August here we are in the dog days of summer and for us at Coastal Carolina Quilters that usually means charity sew with a sweet ice cream treat for all of our hard work. I know many of you have been working hard on our charity quilts while being safe at home.

We do have a need for people who are willing to do pillowcases. We normally complete around 400 plus pillowcases in a year. We have only done 100 plus so far this year. We have quite a few holiday themed ones that we need to get finished. I have given out 24 but still have 33. Plus we have regular ones cut and ready. If you can help, please call me or Margo to arrange to get them.

I hope you are finding a way to enjoy this summer while being safe. We hope to be together soon and until then, be safe and wear your mask.

Joanne Shropshire

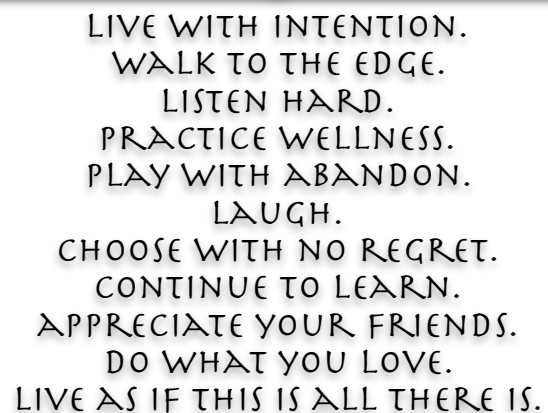

Program Notes from Jerre

I'm sorry we aren't getting together in person BUT there are some wonderful quilt sites and classes online. For example — since I'm mainly interested in machine quilting, I've been following Jamie Wallen who has lots of free YouTube videos. I recently took a class through Facebook from Margaret Solomon Gunn on machine quilting background fills. Also on Facebook is Cindy Needham. Google her name and "like" her site — no need to send a Friend request. She has gobs of free classes. She specializes in free-motion quilting on her sit-down machine and starts at the very beginning with threads and needles. And for piecing quilts, there's always Jenny at Missouri Star Quilt Company; Donna at Jordan Fabrics. Just Get It Done Quilts has lots of ideas for using your scraps. Search "quilts" on YouTube and you're sure to find a quilt that you can't wait to try with your fabric stash.

We will have a wonderful Show and Tell when we finally do meet again.
Stay Safe.

Reminder —

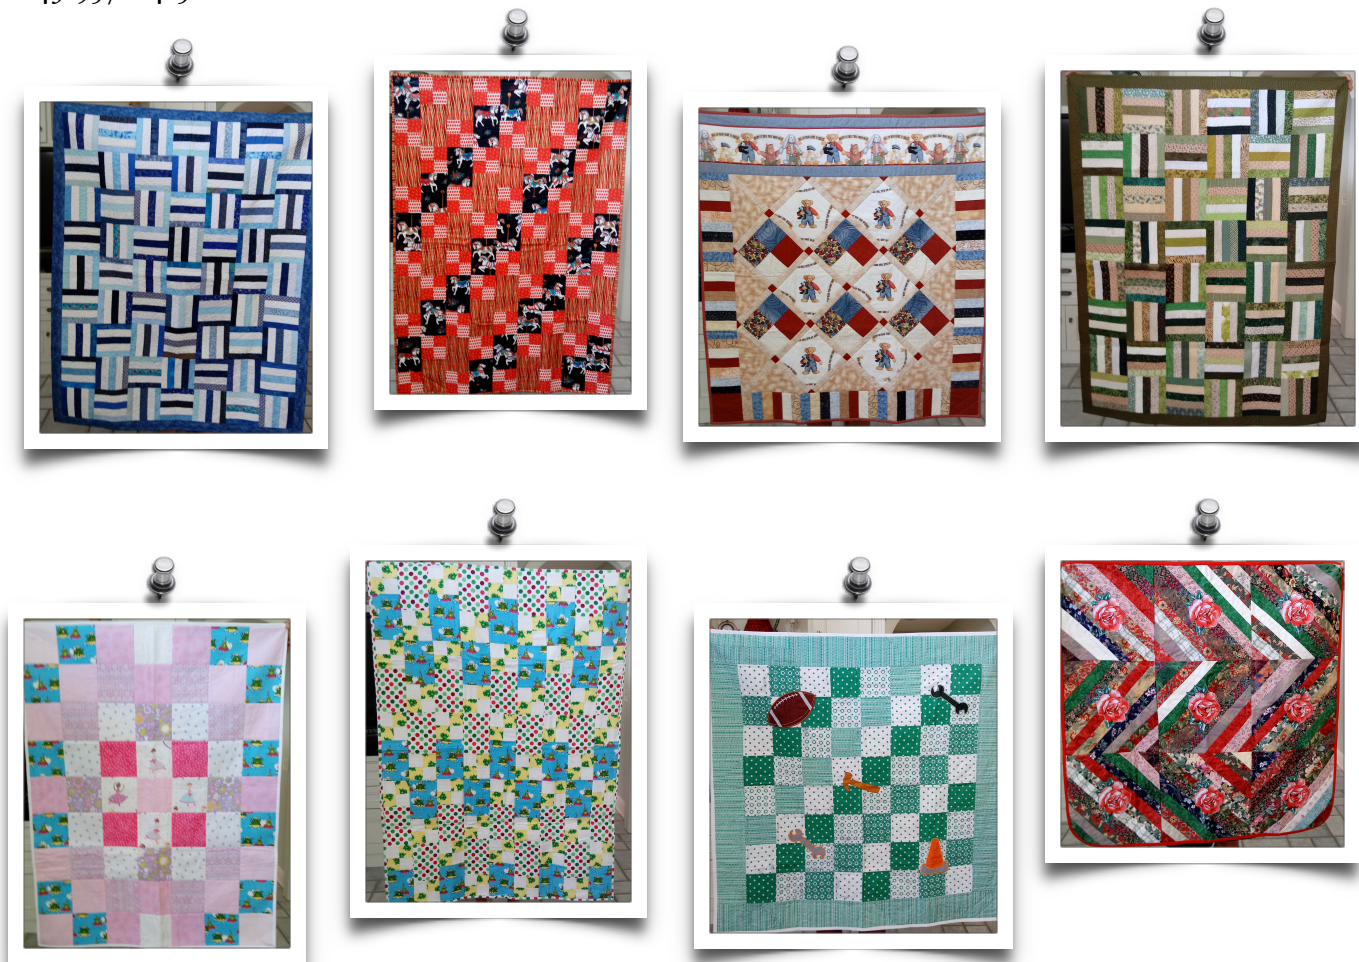

Altered Panel Challenge - We will have the challenge whenever we do meet. If you need your quilt for a gift and will no longer have it by the time we meet, send me a picture of it or print a picture (8 x 10) and it will be included in the challenge.

Another month has gone by and happily the Fostering Hope quilts are still coming in. Many thanks to Joanne Shropshire, Terry Slotter and Maureen Mouso for making and quilting these quilts. If anyone has charity quilts they would like to donate, please contact Margo at cdwool31@frontier.com or call/text 843-655-4826 or Joanne at shropshirejoann@yahoo.com or call 843-957-0415.

Got Fleece?

Sandy Jacobs is asking for donations of fleece. Her daughter, Holly, is a faculty advisor and is working on a service project with Coastal Carolina University to make fleece isolette covers for the NICU (Neonatal Intensive Care Unit) at McLeod Hospital. It takes about a yard of fleece to make an isolette cover. If you have any fleece to share, contact Sandy at 843-457-4181 and she will pick it up. Thank you!

In case you didn't know —

What is an isolette incubator?

An isolette is a clear plastic enclosed crib that maintains a warm environment for a new baby and isolates him or her from germs. A baby, especially a premature baby, who cannot maintain body heat can be protected from drafts and cold in an isolette.

The isolette cover will protect the baby from the bright lights in the ICU.
