June 18th Program - Don't let your sewing machine end up like that poor machine pictured above. For ideas to help keep it in tip-top shape make sure you come to the June meeting. Parker Chiudioni will be our guest speaker. Originally she hails from Northern Virginia where she owned a quilt shop for more than 10 years. Parker and her husband retired 3 years ago and now reside in Leland, NC. Parker will speak about the care and feeding of our most prized possessions. . .our sewing machines! This will include all three types of machines - what you oil and what your dealer does for routine maintenance. She'll talk about needles, thread, tension and provide all sorts of tips and important info you need to know to get the most out of your machine. Also, Parker and her husband will be selling top quality fabric from designers such as Hoffman, Kaufman, Blank, Quilting Treasures, Red Rooster, etc. . . 1/2 yards @ $4 each or a "buy 5 and you get two free" special. They also have batik fabrics for $9 a yard in 1 yard, 1 1/2 yard and 2 yard increments. You won't want to miss this meeting - lots of useful information and fabric — what a deal!

President's Message

Hello and happy summer. Welcome to our hot and humid weather. It looks like we are starting early with those heavy humidity days. I have found doing my chores early, before the strong sun and the stickiness starts, works best for me. Then I can work in my studio, designing and stitching to my heart's delight! This month Parker Chiudioni will be discussing the care and feeding of our sewing machines! I am planning on bringing a notebook and a pen to take notes. For those of you that don't do regular maintenance on your machines, you may want to do the same. I am quite sure we'll pick up some good information. After all, our machines are probably the most expensive tool we own! Next, I would like to remind our board members and program committee members that we will have a short meeting after our program and show and tell are done. And, speaking of show and tell, we have had some interesting programs in the last few months so I am hoping to see some of your creations show up in show and tell.

I hope to see lots of our friends at upcoming meetings. I know many of you are planning on traveling sometime this summer, so travel safely and enjoy the scenery! For those of you that are staying in the area, please join us for our work days. The first is July 16 and the second is August 20. You can bring your machine or take up some other chore. We need people to help in many different ways so come and enjoy the friendship and help us with our charity work!

See you on the 18th.

Kathy Aparicio
